Photo Flashback

THIS imposing late-18th century mansion was Bellamour Hall, a successor to the old hall which was built in 1638 by the Astons of Tixall. The "new" hall which showed how housing tastes had changed in 150 years, was in the neoclassical style, built at about the same time as Shugborough Hall, outstanding example of the period.

Unfortunately the new Bellamour was demolished in the 1920's. The stone is reputed to have been taken to America so that a replica of an English stately home could be built there.

Part of the "new" hall, pictured here, was a Roman Catholic chapel. In the time of the Blounts, who built the hall, Rugeley Catholics used to worship there, since their own new church of St. Joseph had not then been built. The Bellamour baptismal register is still kept at St. John's, Great Haywood. The picture was given to the "Times" by the late Capt. J. A. Best.

We have received the following thrilling and veracious narrative from a highly respectable and trustworthy correspondent:—

"ALARMING FLIGHT AND TOTAL DISAPPEARANCE OF A BUTLER, ATTACHED TO THE TAIL OF A KITE. — A curious incident happened on Tuesday at Bellamour Hall, in this county. A charming and accomplished nephew of Mr. Horsfall having bestowed infinite taste and pains in the construction of a monster kite, and Tuesday being fixed for its first ascent, the numerous friends and admirers of Mr. H. D. Horsfall gathered in breathless excitement to witness the eagerly-looked-for event. Precisely at eleven a.m., Mr. H. D. Horsfall, accompanied by his cousins Miss Horsfall and Miss Sophia Hoskins, and attended by the ill-fated T—, approached the lawn on the south side of the house, where, in full view of the expectant company assembled at the morning room window, the giant kite was to take its aerial journey. The wind was favourable; all was prepared; every beholder on the tip-toe of excitement, while tears fairly poured down the faces of some of the party with intensest interest, when, at a signal given by the noble architect and builder, the kite was started, and up! up! up she went, soaring high above the tallest trees, mountains, &c, but alas! bearing, attached to its tail, the new and trusty butler who had only lately come to Bellamour. Although Mr. Horsfall has made every inquiry, and caused telegrams to be sent to the Man in the Moon and directed him where to return the kite and man, up to the present moment of our going to press no tidings have been heard of either. Poor T—'s fidelity to the end of the kite's string reminds us most touchingly of Mr. Horsfall's motto, 'Ad finem judicis.'"

GARDEN PARTY AT BELLAMOUR.—On Thursday week an invitation garden party was announced to take place at Bellamour Hall, on the occasion of Miss Eva Horsfall's birthday, but on account of the heavy rain it was found necessary to postpone the event until the following day. The invited guests, all of whom were villagers, assembled therefore on Friday evening, at 6 p.m., and the grounds of Bellamour Hall were thrown open until 8-30. A series of sports were arranged for competition amongst the young men of the village, prizes being awarded to the successful competitors. Nearly the whole of the first prizes went to John Tooth, the local athlete, who carried everything before him. Refreshments were provided by Mr. Tingay, of Rugeley.

The Liverpool Corps leave at various hours from early morning until afternoon, entraining at Lime-street or Central Station. The strength of several corps requires at least two trains in many cases for each unit. The mounted units prior to entraining send parties early to-morrow morning to take over horses and "box" them, while there is the additional work of "trucking" guns, wagons, and other vehicles.

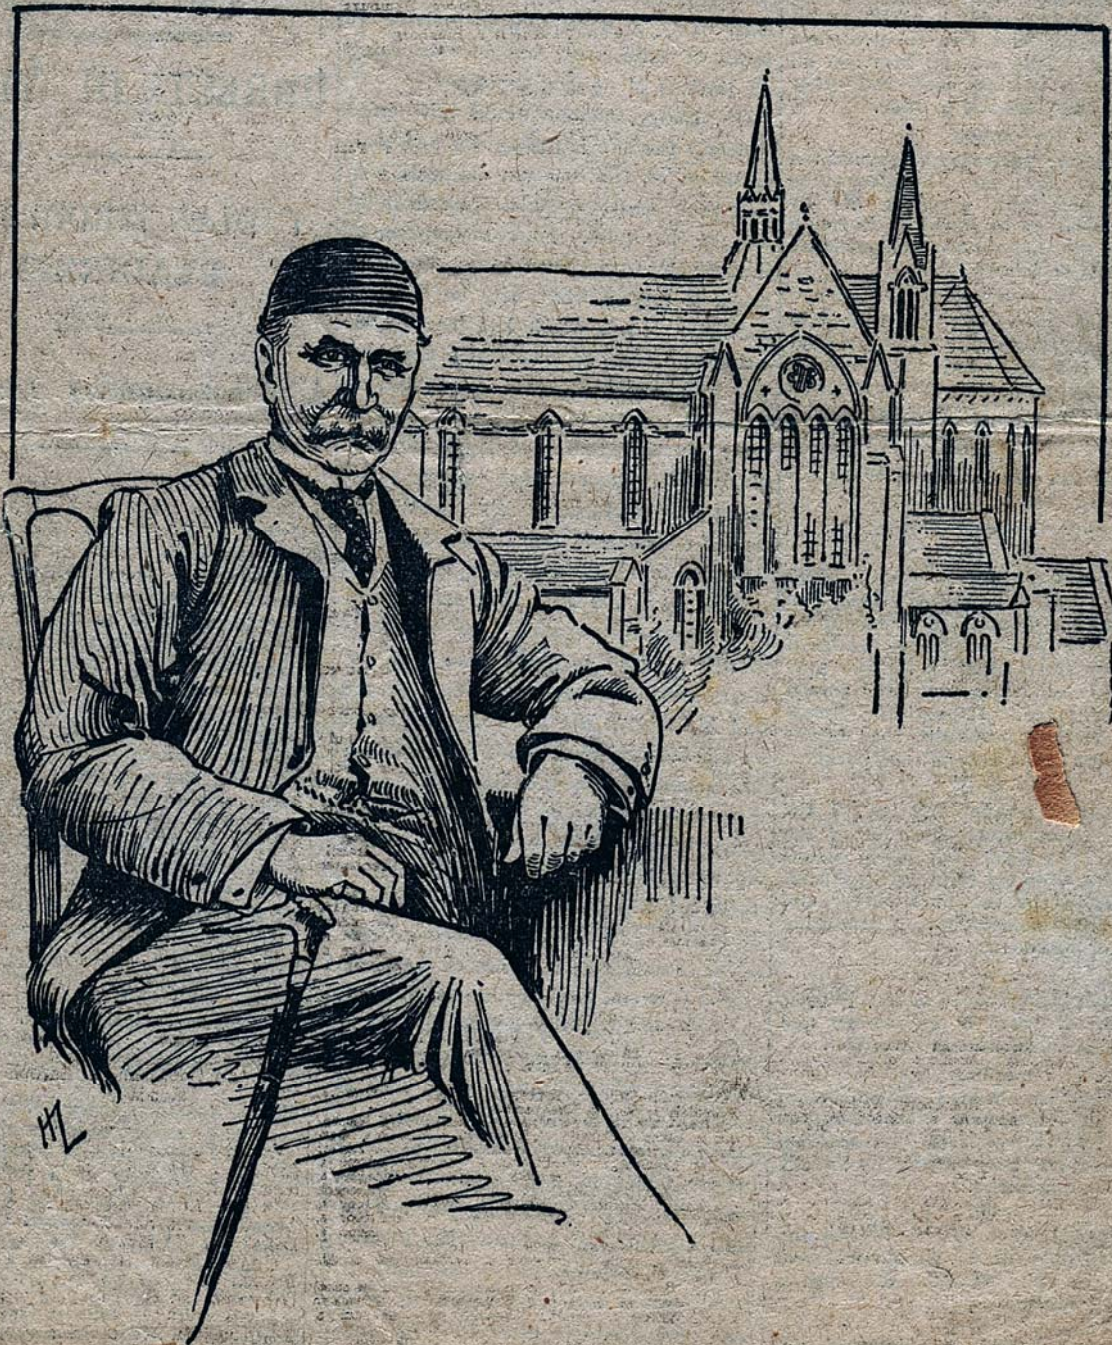

Besides the troops under training the personnel in camp will include large numbers of civilians employed by caterers for officers and other messes, and for canteen purposes and various details. The troops to form the division in camp, less the Lancashire Hussars, who have been there during the week, will be conveyed

DEAR MR. PARKER,

I should have written to you before this, but I knew you were at Llandudno. I enjoyed coming to Colton last week very much indeed, the only regrets I had when I left were that I could not stay longer or come again next Sunday, and that I was going away without having been able to thank every one of my kind friends at Colton, who shared in presenting to me those most generous and handsome gifts which you sent me. Some of these friends of mine I was able to thank, but I see on the list which you gave me, the names of many to whom I had no opportunity of expressing that very real appreciation of their kindness which I feel. The happy days I spent with you, and the many kindnesses I received during the eight years I was connected with the parish I shall never forget. I said good-bye to you all in January with a very heavy heart, so heavy that I could not say what I felt, but it was a real pleasure to come back and and see you all again last week, and I hope that from time to time I shall be able to pay other visits. But what I want now is that my friends should know how much I appreciate their constant kindness, and how highly I shall always value their generous gifts; and if you can tell them this for me in any way, I shall be most grateful to you.

With kindest regards,

Very truly yours,

DONALD JONES

The Masterpiece

A GREAT Artist painted a picture, and because he knew that it was the best work he had done, he sent it as a present to a little village that he loved, many hundreds of miles away.

THE picture was of a young shepherd tending his flock, and it was very beautiful, but the people of the village knew nothing about great paintings, and so they did not know what a treasure they had got.

WRITTEN BY G.H.

THEY hung it in a place where the sun's rays fell hotly on it in the summer time, which blistered the paint, and in the winter they let it get damp, so that in a short time it had lost nearly all its freshness and beauty.

THE artist heard of this and was sad, because he loved all his works, so he travelled many many miles to the village to try and restore the picture.

AND when he arrived at the place the people flocked out to see him, for they were surprised that he should come so long a journey for what seemed to them such a very little thing.

DIRECTLY they saw him they knew that he had taken the figure of the young shepherd from himself, that it was in fact his own likeness.

HE could only stay for three days amongst them, but because he was so gentle and charitable to all they learnt to love him and were sad when the parting time came.

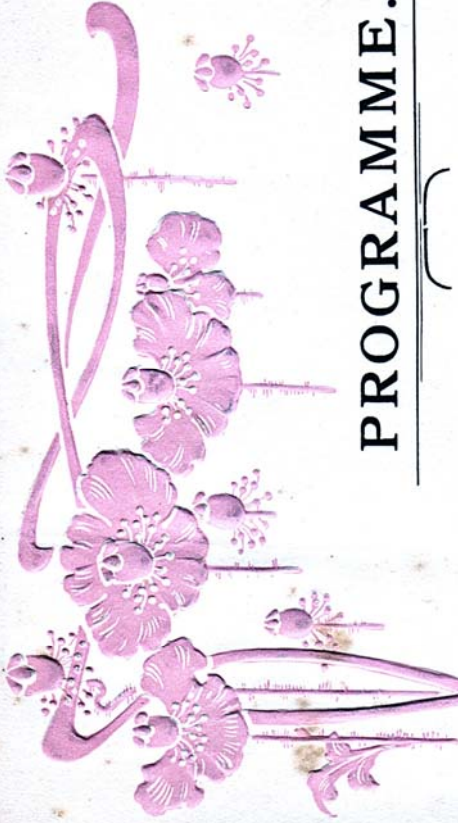

BUT they still had the beautiful picture which they treated tenderly and with honour.

AND in time the world—beginning with that little village—realized that, because he loved them, he had given them his masterpiece.

God Save the King.

Hymn.

O GOD, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home.

Beneath the shadow of Thy Throne
Thy Saints have dwelt secure ;
Sufficient is Thine Arm alone,
And our defence is sure.

Before the hills in order stood,
Or earth received her frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless years the same.

A thousand ages in Thy sight
Are like an evening gone ;
Short as the watch that ends the night
Before the rising sun.

Time, like an ever-rolling stream,
Bears all its sons away ;
They fly forgotten, as a dream
Dies at the opening day.

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Be Thou our guard while troubles last,
And our eternal Home. Amen.

Prayer.

O GOD of the Spirits of all flesh, we bless Thy Holy Name for the memory of our dear departed, who, having fought a good fight, have finished their course with joy. Do Thou, O Lord, crown the gift of their matchless courage with the gift of eternal peace ; and grant that we, encouraged by their example and strengthened by their fellowship, may with them be found meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light, through the merits of Jesus Christ our Lord. Hymn.

O VALIANT hearts who to your glory came
Through dust of conflict and through battle flame
Tranquil you lie, your knightly virtue proved,
Your memory hallowed in the Place you loved.

Proudly you gathered, rank on rank to war,
As who had heard God's message from afar;
All you had hoped for, all you had, you gave
To save mankind—youself you scorned to save.

Splendid you passed, the great surrender made,
Into the light that nevermore shall fade;
Deep your contentment in that blest abode,
Who wait the last clear trumpet-call of God.

Long years ago, as earth lay dark and still,
Rose a loud cry upon a lonely hill,
While in the frailty of our human clay
Christ, our Redeemer, passed the self-same way.

Still stands His Cross from that dread hour to this
Like some bright star above the dark abyss;
Still, through the veil, the Victor's pitying eyes
Look down to bless our lesser Calvaries.

These were His servants, in His steps they trod
Following through death the martyr'd Son of God:
Victor He rose; victorious too shall rise
They who have drunk His cup of Sacrifice.

O risen Lord, O Shepherd of our Dead,
Whose Cross has bought them and whose Staff has led—
In glorious hope their proud and sorrowing land
Commits her brothers to Thy gracious hand. Amen.

The Congregation are requested to join in the Service.

The singing of the Hymns will be accompanied by the Band.

Prayer.

REV. D. R. S. HOLMES.

O GOD, our Father, look down upon us in Thy mercy at this time.

Accept, we beseech Thee, this our tribute of gratitude, which we dedicate this day.

May the names of those who died for us be also inscribed upon the tables of our hearts.

Grant, O Lord, that the object for which they died may be fully achieved, and that peace may be firmly established in the earth.

Comfort, we pray Thee, those who will ever mourn the loss of their dear ones, who made the supreme sacrifice.

Help us, O Lord, that we may not only dedicate our Memorial, but also dedicate ourselves to Thy Service, and to the cause of humanity, brotherhood and good-will.

Thus may we prove ourselves worthy of the sacrifices made for us, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Here let all join in The Lord's Prayer.

Mr. E. S. BLORE (Chairman) requests

H. L. HORSFALL, Esq.,

to Unveil the Memorial, and give an Address.

The Dedication.

Rev. D. R. S. HOLMES, Rector of Colton.

IN the Faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, Who is the Resurrection and the life, Who by his death hath destroyed Death, and by His Rising again hath restored us to everlasting life; and as a Memorial of those from this Parish who have laid down their lives in the great conflict for righteousness' sake; we dedicate this Memorial in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. May all who pass by and look thereon be reminded of a greater sacrifice, and to realize the peace of sins forgiven, the joy of faithful service, and the power of that endless life, to which may God vouchsafe to bring us all, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

The "Last Post."

(Silence for a few moments).

Then shall the Memorial be presented by the Representative of the Committee.

Mr. T. DEACON

Sir, I desire to ask your acceptance as the Representative of THE PARISH COUNCIL, of this Memorial in grateful memory of the men of this parish who gave their lives for their Country in the Great War, and we request that this Memorial may be for ever preserved.

Mr. E. S. BLORE, the Council's Representative shall then say:

We thankfully accept this Memorial, and in your presence solemnly undertake to see that it is for ever preserved.
